About

The competition is open to chefs under 27 years of age on September 1 in the year of the competition. Competitors must be working in one of the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs member establishments and have qualified in a national competition before competing at the international level.

The first Jeunes Chefs Rôtisseurs Competition was first organized by the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs in Switzerland in 1977. Competitions are held annually at regional, national and international levels in Bailliages around the world. The goal is to encourage and promote the cultural diversity in food preparation and presentation while using and applying a traditional approach.

In the United States the Competition was started in 1990 and continues to grow every year. It has been featured on the TV Food Network and CNN. Our winner in the United States in 2011, Reilly Mehan, went on to win the International Jeunes Chefs Rôtisseurs Competition put on by the Confrérie de la Chaîne des Rôtisseurs .
